

Tappotutto Onda

Tappotutto is the final product in Milova Plast's house.

This category of synthetic semi expanded tops is made up of two different kinds of product, similar in the composition but different in their dedicated use.

The conical Tappotutto was designed for the temporary rebottling of gas-free liquids.

The Tappotutto Onda (patented) was designed for the temporary rebottling of every kind of liquid, included the sparkling ones, such as: sparkling water, sparkling wines, beers etc. In fact, thanks to its particular layout, it exerts inside the bottleneck a resistance, which improves its hold.
